Headed Royal Trust

Noted Financier R. P. Jellett Dies

A funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday in Christ Church Cathedral, for Robert Patterson Jellett, retired chairman of the Royal Trust Company, who died suddenly yesterday in the Ross Memorial Pavilion of the Royal Victoria Hospital. He was 83.

Mr. Jellett was born in Picton, Ont., son of the late Judge Robert Patterson Jellett and Eliza Lilias Grier.

Educated at Trinity College School, Port Hope, Ont., he began his career with Sampson, McCuaig and Co. in Toronto in 1897 and a year later became junior clerk of the Bank of Montreal in Brantford. In 1900 he was transferred by the bank to Toronto.

In 1902 he began his lifetime career with the Royal Trust Company. He became assistant manager and superintendent of branches in 1912, assistant general manager in 1922 and general manager in 1928.

Appointed vice-president, director and member of the executive committee in 1939, he became president in 1943, a position he held until 1950 when he was appointed chairman of the board.

Retiring in 1955, Mr. Jellett continued as a director and was named honorary president from 1960 to 1962, and subsequently remained an honorary director until his death.

Opposed Socialism

Mr. Jellett was closely associated with the business life of Canada for more than half a century. A strong believer in free enterprise, he was opposed to socialism in all its forms which he labelled "imaginary and illusory and an impractical dream which could develop into nothing but a nightmare."

One of Canada's leading financiers, Mr. Jellet's services were sought by the country's largest enterprises. He was a retired director of Royal Agencies Ltd. and International Business Machines Ltd.

He was also an active member of the Canadian advisory board of the Phoenix Assurance Company of London, England.

Mr. Jellett served as chairman of both the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian section of the International Chamber of Commerce. He was also a former chairman of the board of governors of the Welfare Federation; a life governor of the Montreal General Hospital, a former president of the Montreal Board of Trade and Dominion Mortgage and Investments Association and a former vice-president of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts.

Mr. Jellett was active on the home front during World War II. He acted as chairman of the War Savings Committee, Western division of the Province of Quebec, and of the first Red Cross campaign in Montreal.

ROBERT P. JELLETT

An ardent Anglican, Mr. Jellett served as chairman of the Restoration Fund of the Church of England in Canada and the Anglican Forward Movement. He headed the financial campaigns of Financial Federation and other charitable organizations.

Mr. Jellett was closely associated with Trinity College School for more than 50 years and was a member of the school's governing body.

In June, 1939, Mr. Jellett led an important delegation from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to the 10th congress of the International Chamber of Copenhagen.

Mr. Jellett was a past president of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, the Mount Royal Tennis Club, the Montreal Indoor Tennis Club, the Montreal Badminton and Squash Club and the Canadian Club of Montreal. In addition he was a member of the Mount Royal Club, St. James's Club, the Arts Club, the MAAA and a former member of the York Club, Toronto. He was also a member of St. Paul's Lodge, AF and AM.

He is survived by his wife, the former Florence C. I. Meeker; a son, Lieut.-Cmdr. J. David Jellett, a daughter, Mrs. John Gardner (Barbara) and six grandchildren.

Burial will be in Mount Royal Cemetery.

tarvation) and the death rate rom heart muscle oxygen star- vation (myocardial infarction) were up to four times higher in men and women engaged in sedentary work than in non-sedentary workers in all age groups.

Dr. Brunner added that the studies showed the effect of physical activity in preventing symptoms of this kind of heart disease and in improving the course of the disease after its onset.

The conference is circulating an appeal to health authorities and private agencies calling for preventive action against ischemic (oxygen starvation) heart disease.

"In view of the urgency of the situation," says the appeal to be signed by all conference participants, what is needed is "intercontinental" research in consultation with the World Health Organization; study of the results achieved by emotional and physical reconditioning centres already established in Europe, and establishment of such centres in countries lacking them, particularly the prosperous countries.

The first signature on the appeal was that of Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, hailed here yesterday as "the practicing preacher of preventive cardiology."

Trucker, 34, Admits Fake Robbery

A 34-year old truck driver who reported a fake holdup, pleaded guilty to a charge of public mischief yesterday. He will be sentenced Sept. 30.

In the meantime, Judge Redmond Roche allowed Marcel Boucher, of 300 May avenue, Verdun, to remain free on a $950 bail, following a special plea by a defence lawyer.

According to police, Boucher let himself be robbed at St. Patrick and Charlevoix streets about noon Friday, arranging the whole thing with a friend.

Boucher, employed by a local trucking firm, then reported to police he had been held up and robbed of cash and merchandise totalling $981.

When police started questioning the accused, he broke down and confessed.

In court yesterday, Boucher's lawyer explained that the accused had not profited in any way from the affair. "He has four children and should have been thinking before getting involved in all this," commented the lawyer.

He said his client was ready to reimburse his employers, who have agreed to "give him a

President Of Zambia

Reuters

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia, Aug. 25—Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda today was elected as president-designate of Zambia.

He was unopposed. Northern Rhodesia becomes the independent state of Zambia Oct. 24.

Kaunda, 40, has been prime minister since January this year. Until last September, Northern Rhodesia had been part of the now-defunct federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

The son of a teacher later ordained as a Church of Scotland missionary, Kaunda has been twice imprisoned by British authorities for his activities in the national struggle for independence.

Agreement on independence for Northern Rhodesia, the world's fourth largest copper-producer, was reached at talks in London last May.

QPP Officer Fatally Shot At Party

Roland Blondin, a 51-year-old ex-Liquor Police inspector who was shot at a party at his summer home in Lavaltrie early in August, died early today of a bullet wound in his head in Maisonneuve Hospital.

At the time of the shooting he was an agent with the morality squad of the Montreal Division, QPP.

After a series of operations, police were told Blondin's chances of recovery were good, but that he would be blind.

An inquest will be opened later this week in Berthierville.

A 27-year-old Chomedey man who police allege did the shooting has been arraigned in Joliette on a charge of criminal negligence, resulting in grievous bodily harm.

WE'RE NOT EVEN

IN RENT-A-CARS . . .

In fact, we don't even try to claim a standing . . . yet! After all, we're just getting started. But we do claim we are bringing a new concept to car rental in the Montreal area . . . namely economy. Now you can rent a new 1964 compact car and save . . . by the day . . . by the mile . . . by the dollar! You pay only $5 a day and 5c a mile, and buy only the gas you use. (At 35-40 miles per gallon, you never had it so good). So why pay more . . . particularly if it's your own money . . . when you can enjoy low cost motoring the "5 & 5" way at Compact Rent-A-Car? Think "Compact" and save big money.

OBITUARY.

MORGAN JELLETT, ESQ.

The news of the death of Mr. Jellett was heard by everyone with consternation as well as surprise last night. A few days before, he had been seen constantly on the street or in his place of business, and many people—even a large number of his friends—did not know that he was dangerously ill. He was so full of life, activity, and health, and had recently been such a prominent figure in municipal affairs, that it was hard to realize that he had passed from our midst forever, and his familiar face would never be seen, nor his cheerful, genial voice heard, any more. Though his death was sudden and entirely unexpected, Mr. Jellett had been very ill for over a week. Last Monday afternoon the writer found him in his office, sitting on a sofa with his head in his hands. He had just returned from a funeral, and said that he thought he must have received a slight sunstroke, for he was giddy and had a violent pain in his head. On Tuesday he was worse, and was obliged to leave his office and go home. His symptoms continued to grow more alarming, and on Wednesday Dr. Willson was called in. The doctor gave it as his opinion that Mr. Jellett was suffering from malarial fever, which was developing into typhoid. On Thursday the fever mounted to the patient's head, and he became delirious, and remained so, more or less, to the end. Yesterday afternoon he was seized with violent convulsions, after one of which he quietly and painlessly passed away. He died about 5:30 p. m.

The deceased gentleman belonged to an old and very respectable Irish family, the genealogy of which, for over two centuries past, has been published and is in possession of each member of the family. His father, Morgan Jellett, Esq., was for many years clerk of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham. The subject of this notice was born in Port Hope on the 8th of May, 1837. He was educated in Cobourg, and when a young man came to Belleville to study law with his brother, R. P. Jellett, Esq., now Judge of Prince Edward County. Having completed his law studies, he went to Stirling to practice, and remained there several years. Removing back to Belleville about the year 1868, he entered into partnership with his brother, and continued so until 1873, when the latter was appointed Judge of Prince Edward County. On the dissolution of the partnership Mr. Jellett carried on business for himself for five years and in 1878 entered into partnership with J. J. B. Flint, Esq. The firm of Flint & Jellett carried on a very large business for about three years, but dissolved several months ago, each gentleman going back into business for himself.

Mr. Jellett's municipal career has been a short but very successful one. He first entered the City Council in 1878, being returned at the head of the poll for Ketchoson Ward, and has been returned for the same ward each successive year. In 1879 he held the onerous and responsible position of Chairman of the Court of Revision. Last year, Ald. Jellett was chosen Chairman of the Finance Committee, which position—the most responsible municipal position, probably, which anyone can hold—he has also filled during the present year. He has proved himself a far-seeing as well as painstaking Chairman of Finance; and, however much several of his colleagues in office may differ from him with respect to financial questions, not one but will cheerfully admit that Ald. Jellett has always been upright and conscientious in the discharge of his duties, and that in everything he did he had the interests of the city as his all-prevailing motive.

The deceased gentleman was a very prominent member of St. Thomas' Church, having for several years held the position of Churchwarden. It is in a great measure owing to his energy and good management that St. Thomas' Church is standing to-day. His loss will be greatly felt by the other officials and the congregation of that church.

Mr. Jellett was twice married. His first wife was a daughter of Chas. Wilkins Esq., of this city. By her he had several children, but only two are living. His present wife is a daughter of Mr. Geo. E. Bull, of Stirling; by her he had three children, only one of whom survives him.

For several years past the deceased has been connected with the 15th Battalion in the capacity of Paymaster, and was also a prominent member of the R. of Q. Yacht Club.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from the family residence, Bridge St. West. The procession will leave the house at 3 o'clock and proceed to St. Thomas' Church, where the funeral services will be read; from thence it will proceed to the Cemetery.

Matthews—Kewin

A wedding trip to Bermuda followed the marriage of Miss Gwynneth Joan Kewin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Edwin Kewin, to Mr. James Nelles Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gerrie Matthews, which was solemnized in Grace Church on-the-Hill. Rev. Dr. James H. Craig officiated at the ceremony, against a background of white stocks and gladioli, and lighted candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose an original gown of crisp ivory taffeta, the long-sleeved bodice featuring an off-shoulder neckline edged with lace made by the bride's great-grandmother. The full skirt swept into a cathedral train. A cap encrusted with pearls, also worn by her great-grandmother, held her long veil, and she carried a cascade of gardenias, freesia and hyacinth petals.

Gowned alike, her attendants were her sister, Miss Daphne Kewin, maid of honor, Mrs. David Greey, Miss Gwynneth Pringle and Mrs. John Bradley. Their original dresses of sea-surf blue taffeta were styled with fitted bodices and long bouffant skirts emphasizing a side drape. All wore coronets of pink carnations and purple pansies, and carried cascades of the same flowers with red roses and hyacinth petals. Mr. John Hastings was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Kenneth Kewin, David Greey and Roger Kirkpatrick.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthews will live at 901 Avenue Rd.

OBITUARY - MORGAN JELLETT ========== (Ontario Intelligencer, September 4, 1881)

The news of the death of Mr Jellett was heard by everyone with consternation as well as surprise last night. A few days before, he had been seen constantly on the street or in his place of business, and many people---- even a large number of his friends---- did not know that he was dangerously ill. He was so full of life, activity, and health, and had recently been such a prominent figure in municipal affairs, that it was hard to realize that he had passed from our midst forever, and his familiar face would never be seen, nor his cheerful, genial voice heard, any more. Though his death was sudden and entirely unexpected, Mr Jellett had been very ill for over a week. Last Monday afternoon the writer found him in his office, sitting on a sofa with his head in his hands. He had just returned from a funeral, and said that he thought he must have received a slight sunstroke, for he was giddy and had a violent pain in his head. On Tuesday he was worse, and was obliged to leave his office and go home. His symptoms continued to grow more alarming, and on Wednesday Dr Willson was called in. The doctor gave it as his opinion that Mr Jellett was suffering from malarial fever, which was developing into typhoid. On Thursday the fever mounted to the patient's head, and he became delirious, and remained so, more or less, to the end. Yesterday afternoon he was seized with violent convulsions, after one of which he quietly and painlessly passed away. He died about 5:30 p.m.

The deceased gentleman belonged to an old and very respectable Irish family, the genealogy of which, for over two centuries past, has been published and is in possession of each member of the family. His father, Morgan Jellett, Esq, was for many years clerk of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham. The subject of this notice was born in Port Hope on the 8th of May, 1837. He was educated in Cobourg, and when a young man came to Belleville to study law with his brother, R P Jellett, Esq, now Judge of Prince Edward County. Having completed his law studies, he went to Stirling to practise, and remained there several years. Removing back to Belleville about the year 1868, he entered partnership with his brother, and continued so until 1873, when the latter was appointed Judge of Prince Edward County. On the dissolution of the partnership Mr Jellett carried on business for himself for five years and in 1878 entered into partnership with J J B Flint, Esq. The firm of Flint & Jellett carried on a very large business for about three years, but dissolved several months ago, each gentleman going back into business for himself.

Mr Jellett's municipal career has been a short but very successful one. He first entered the City Council in 1878, being returned at the head of the poll for Ketcheson Ward, and has been returned for the same ward each successive year. In 1879 he held the onerous and responsible position of Chairman of the Court of Revision. Last year, Ald. Jellett was chosen Chairman of the Finance Committee, which position---- the most responsible municipal position, probably, which anyone can hold---- he has also filled during the present year. He has proved himself a far-seeing as well as painstaking Chairman of Finance; and, however much several of his colleagues in office may differ from him with respect to financial questions, not one but will cheerfully admit that Ald. Jellett has always been upright and conscientious in the discharge of his duties, and that in everything he did he had the interests of the city as his all prevailing motive.

The deceased gentleman was a very prominent member of St Thomas' Church, having for several years held the position of Churchwarden. It is in a great measure owing to his energy and good management that St Thomas' Church is standing to-day. His loss will be greatly felt by the other officials and the congregation of that church. Mr Jellett was twice married. His first wife was a daughter of Chas. Wilkins Esq of this city. By her he had several children, but only two are living. His present wife is a daughter of Mr Geo E Bull, of Stirling; by her he had three children, only one of whom survives him.

For several years past the deceased has been connected with the 15th Battalion in the capacity of Paymaster, and was also a prominent member of the B of Q Yacht Club.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from the family residence, Bridge St West. The procession will leave the house at 3 o'clock and proceed to St Thomas' Church, where the funeral services will be read; from thence it will proceed to the Cemetery.

MORGAN JELLETT

Mr. Morgan Jellett died in Toronto on the 19th of August. He entered the School in 1892 and left in 1895. He was a member of the Choir under Mr. F. H. Coombs, and was an extremely good football player. On leaving T.C.S. he entered the old Traders' Bank and in his spare time worked as a reporter for a Toronto paper. Later he joined an investment business and became a partner in the firm of Morrow and Jellett. During recent years he had not been very active as he suffered from much illness.

$1,222,436 To Charity

National Trust Company today made application for probate of the will of Morgan Jellett, former Toronto stockbroker, who left $1,227,436—most of it to charity.

Mr. Jellett died here Aug. 19. His will, after making provision for a legacy of $5,000 to a sister, directs that the residue of the estate be divided among five charities.

The charities are the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, the Society for Crippled Civilians, the Canadian Red Cross and the Queen Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. Jellett's estate was made up of bank stock holdings valued at $970,594.82 and securities at $35,602.98. He had $4.36 on hand and $76,399.77 cash in the bank at the time of his death.

A life insurance policy worth $5,000 and a credit from a brokerage account $1,189.15 were other items in the estate.

Jellett named The National Trust Company and his wife, Beatrice Mary, who predeceased him, as executors.

BROKER LEAVES CHARITIES BULK OF $1,227,436

Four charitable societies and a Toronto hospital will receive between them almost the whole of the $1,227,436 estate left by the late Morgan Jellett, former stockbroker.

Application for probate of his will has been made, the National Trust Co. announced today. After making provision for a legacy of $5,000 to a sister, the will directs the residue be divided among the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, the Society for Crippled Civilians, the Canadian Red Cross and the Queen Elizabeth hospital. Mr. Jellett died Aug. 19.

Corner in Chicago Pork.

Morgan Jellett is about thirty-four or thirty-five years of age. His birthplace was Belleville, Ont., and his first inkling of anything much of a financial nature was when a close relative of his combined some years since with other Belleville gentlemen to try to make a fortune by cornering the Chicago pork market. Some way or other the venture did not turn out very well, but there was a lesson in it even at his early age for Morgan Jellett, and he took it to heart. After undergoing an educative process at Trinity College School, Port Hope, Morgan Jellett entered the service of the Traders Bank and took up junior work, which consisted of peddling drafts sent in for collection. The young banker served in Toronto for a time, and was then transferred to Windsor branch. It happened, however, that he had been in Toronto a reliable member of the old Osgoode Hall football team, and as the team simply had to have him, the bank brought him back from Windsor to Toronto. Young Jellett found that his salary as a bank junior was somewhat scant, and he looked around for some means of increasing his income, deciding finally that the newspaper hours would about fit in with his bank hours. So he secured a place on the staff of a Toronto morning newspaper and started to live a double life. That is to say, he was down to his bank at nine o'clock in the morning, got through about five p.m., and then hustled over to the newspaper office to report for daily work there. His was the privilege for two years, more or less, of "doing police" amongst other assignments, and most commonly the work of the police reporter ends somewhere between one o'clock and three o'clock in the morning. Police reporters say it's the hardest job on earth. Whether it is or not, young Jellett held it down for two years, during which time the bank became more generous in the size of his pay cheque.

Entered the Jarvis Firm.

About the year 1905 he left the bank and started out in a financial way for himself, handling the bond issue of a small hydro-electric power company.

Morgan Jellett always has taken a keen interest in football and yachting. When the Royal Canadian Yacht Club decided to build itself better and more commodious quarters, "Jelly," who was on the executive, was one of the first to volunteer to get out and sell R.C.Y.C. debentures to secure the money. Mr. Aemilius Jarvis himself was one of the commodores of the club at that time, and I think it is quite possible that he appreciated the faculty for business that the young man displayed. We need not go into minute particulars; it is enough to say that in the year 1905 Morgan Jellett took a position in the bond department of the Jarvis firm. Now, five years later, he becomes one of the partners. He has had his full share of work meanwhile, traversing Canada from one end to the other in a financial capacity, and in every large city and in a host of small places throughout the Dominion there are many friends of his who will be glad to hear of his step up.

A Short Account of the JELLETT Family; ▸

The Jellett Family is reputed to be of French extraction and to have come to England after the Massacre of St Bartholomew's Day. The name is believed to have been originally Giliot a diminutive of Gilles, the French form og Giles. The records of the family, so ar as is at preesent (ca 1900) known, commence with Captain William Jellett who married a Miss Levigne prior to the year 1632, in which year his son William was born. The latter who was an officer in Colonel Rawdon's regiment, married Catherine the only surviving daughter of Captain James Morgan, a Welshman from Garth in Carmantehnshire and an officer in Cromwell's army, bt Sarah Bramhall, a relative of Dr Bramhall, Primate of Ireland. Captain Morgan was killed at the siege of Drogheda, and in recognition of his services a grant of land was given by Cromwell to his widow and daughter. These lands were known as Tullyard, and were situated near Moira in the County of Down. Their grant was subsequently confirmed in 1669 by the Act of Settlement of Charles II.

The foregoing are the earliest members of the family who are recorded in the family bible but reference to others can be found in contemporary literature. A Captain Henry Jellett served in General Monck's army in Ireland and was one of three officers were deputed by the General Officers of the Army to demand from General Monck his reasons for not promptly signing the "Solemn League and Covenant" which had been already signed by all the officers save him. An original copy of the document with several signatures attached, is no in the Belfast Museum to which it was presented by Morgan Jellett, grandson of Morgan Jellett of Tullyard by his second wife. In an old Rent Roll od the lands belonging to the See of Dromore, there is mention of a tenant on the same of the name of Jellett, who held much property there at the commencement of the seventeenth century. There is also an entry in the records of the Cathedral Church of Durham of a charge on the Chapter in order to pay for sack for Mr. Jellett who preached there in 1656. Lastly in an official report sent by Mayor Arthur Tempest to Sir Arthur Rawdon after the battle of Anghrim, in 1691. special mention is made of the death of Ensign Jellett, who was killed during the battle. In this connection it may be mentioned that Miss Levigne, wife of Captain William Jellett. Miss Bramhall with of Captain James Morgan and Miss Wynn wife of Morgan Jellett of Tullyard. all appear to have been related to Sir Arthur Rawdon.

On the death of Catherine in 1732, Tullyard passed to her grandson, Morgan, the eldest surviving son of her eldest surviving son Mathew who had predeceased her. Morgan married twice. His first wife, Jane, was the daughter of William Wynn of Drumnacairne who is said to have been a brother of Sir William Watkin Wynn of Wales and Anne Cobbe a relative of the Right Reverend Charles Cobbe, Bishop of Dromore. By this marriage he had amongst other children a son John who survived him. On Jane's death, Morgan married Brilliana daughter of Stanhope Mason of Liverpool, and by her had numerous children. Their descendants appear for the most part to have emigrated to America and in 1890 the only male representative of that branch of the family in the United Kingdom was the Reverend Morgan Jellett, Rector of St. Peter's Parish, Dublin. He was the eldest sueviving son of Morgan Jellett of Moira, who was the eldes surviving son of Mathew the fourth son of Morgan of Tullyard. He married Rebecca daughter of Nicholas Monserrat and had four daughters. Of these, two died unmarried; one, Rebecca, married John Wakely of Balluburley in the King's County, Barrister-at-law and subsequently County Court Judge for the Counties of Sligo and Roscommon, and has issue three daughters; and the remaining daughter Nicola, married Edawrd Moore, M.D. of Letterkenny and has issue one daughter and one son.

Subsequent to his second marriage, Morgan of Tullyardbecame estranged from his eldest son John, with the result that he compelled thwe latter to join in breaking the entail of Tullyard, which property he then left to one of his sons by his second wife by whom it was subsequently sold.

John, the eldest surviving son of Morgan of Tullyard by his first wife, married Hester, daughter of James Holmes of Dublin, and grand-daughter of the Reverend Thomas Waring. Rector of Moira, and settled in Dublin. His eldest son Morgan became a Clergyman and was Rector of Tullycorbert Parish in the County of Monaghan. He married. first, Harriet, daughter of Hewitt Baldwin Poole of Mayfield in the County of Cork by whom he had four sons and one daughter. As will be seen in the genealogical tables which follow. the connection between the Poole family and the present generation of the Jellet family is very close. For this reason the pedigree of the Poole family is set forth fully. After his first wife's deah. Morgan married Elizabeth Waggett. by whom he had no issue. He died shortly after his marriage.

Of the four sons of the Reverend Morgan Jellett of Tullycorbet by his first wife, three were highly distinguished in their respective spheres. John, the eldest. became a Fellow of Trinty College, Dublin. and in the year 1881 was appointed by the government of the day to the Provotship of the College in succession to Dr. Humphrey Lloyd. He married his cousin Dorothea Charlotte. daughter James Morgan of Tivoli House, Cork, and died in 1BB8. He had three saons and four daughters. The eldest son. William, is a Barrister-at-Law and King's Counsel; the second son, John, is a Colonel in the Royal Regiment of Artillery, and the third son, Holmes, is a Civil Engineer. Of the daughters, two are married and have children. Henry, the thrid son of the Reverend Morgan Jellett was also in Holy Orders. He was Curate of the Parish of St Peter's, Cork, from 1B47 to 1851. He then became Rector of Ballspillane, where he remained for two years. In 1853 he became Rector of Aghinagh Parish also in the County of Cork, which post he held up to the year 1889, when on the death of The Very Reverend John West he was appointed to the Deanery of St Patick's Cathedral, Dublin. This post he held until his great abilities to the re-organization of the Irish Church after its disestablishment in 18xx and to them is due in great part the subsequent success of that re-organisation. Hewitt, the youngest son of the Reverend Morgan Jellett. became a Barrister-at-Law. He was a Queen's Counsel and for mqany years held a foremost position in the ranks of the Chancery Bar. He also held the office of County Court Judge for the Queens's County from 18xx until its abolition in 1Bxx and in 1B9x was appointed one of the Segeant's-at-Law. He married Josephine daughter of Sir Mathew Barrington, Bart. of Glenstal, and had four children · two sons and two daughters. The eldest son John is a member of the medical profession; the younger Mathew Barrington is a Solicitor. The daughters are unmarried.

The portraits of the three sons of the Reverend Morgan Jellett can be seen in Dublin. The Provost's hangs in the Common Room of Trinity College, the Dean's in the Deanery of St Patrick's, the Sergeant's in the Hall of the King's Inns. In addition there is a fine three-light window in the North Choir Aisle of St Patrick's Cathedral to the memory of the Dean.

Henry, the third son of the Reverend Morgan Jellett. married his cousin Elizabeth, youngest daughter of James Morgan of Tivoli House, Cork. and grand-daughter of Hewitt Baldwin Poole of Mayfield and by her had four sons and four daughters. Of these, three survived him - a daughter Elizabeth, and two sons James and Henry. Both sons are Doctors of Medicine of the University of Dublin. The elder James is unmarried, while the younger Henry is married to Mary Gwenoline, daughter of Francis H M Leader of Classas in the County of Cork.

There are in possession of the Jellett family, three heirlooms whose age and association entitle thyem to special mention. The first of these is an old copy of the Breeches Bible, date ____. This bible originally belonged to William Jellett who married Catherine Morgan in 167B, and contains entries written by both him and his wife, as well as family records written by succeeding members of the family.

The second heirloom is a bloodstone tankard, with silver gilt mounts and heavy silver lid. It is of English manufacture and is dated 153B. The following ancedote relating to it is preserved amongst the traditions of the family:- When KIng William III, in 1640, was on his march from Belfast to the Boyne he halted at Hillsborough. Whilst there, Catherine Jellett presented herself before him with the Petition that as her husband was serving in the army, His Majesty would grant her a guard of two soldiers to protect her property from the enemies by whom he was suurounded. The King received her graciously, and perceiving a large tankard of fully a quart measure attached to her girdle, asked her why she so carried it. In reply, she informed him that the tankard was one highly prized in the family and was handed down as an heirloom; and that as it was formed of a blood-stone, it was believed to be of ngreat efficacy in curing haemorrhage. She added that she had been afraid to leave so valuable and article behind her during her absence. His Majesty thereupon called for wine, filled the tankard and drank the lady's health, then presenting it to her to drink to his success. Afterwards he granted her request and sent her home with a guard of two soldiers under orders to remain until they were recalled. As, however, they never were recalled, they eventually became settlers on the property.

The third heirloom is a minature of Oliver Cromwell which was given by him to Captain James Morgan, father of Catherine Jellett. It is painted upon an oval silver plate, about two inches in diamater and is mounted on an old ebony frame.

All three heirlooms passed with Tullyard to the children of Morgan Jellett of Tullyard by his second wife, and eventually found their way to America in the possession of one of their descendants. The latter gentleman recognising that they more properly belonged to the senior branch, sent them over to Ireland with directions that they were to be given to the Reverend John Jellett, Provost of Trinity College. This was done , in the case of the tankard and the minature, which are now in the possession of William, eldest son of the late Provost. The bible, however, remains in the possession of Mrs Wakely of Ballyburley, who was the eldest daughter of the Reverend Morgan Jellett, Rector of St Peter's Parish, Dublin, and great-great-grand-daughter of Morgan of Tullyard by his second wife.

The Armorial Bearings of the Jellett Family as used up to the year 1906, were as follows:-

ARMS. Ermine. On a bend engrailded sable, three lucies heads erased argent collared with a bar gemel gules.
CREST. A dove holding in its bill an olive branch, all proper.
MOTTS. Imitari quam invidere.

As however no official record of these bearings could be found, an application for their confirmation was made in that year by James W H Jellett, M.D. elser surviving son of the late Very Reverend Henry Jellett, with the result that the armorial bearings as confirmed to him and to the other descendants of his father are as follows:-

ARMS. Ermine, on a bend engrailed, plain cottised, sable, between two crosses botonnee or, three lucies' heads erased argent, collared witha bar gemel gules.
CREST. A dove holding in its bill an olive branch all proper, gorged with a bar gemel giles.
MOTTS. Imitari quam invidere.

...Universal regret was expressed on ...every hand to-day when it became ru...mored about the streets that Mrs. M. ...Jellett, a former well-known Belle...ville lady, had met an untimely death ...at New York, by being suffocated. ...The sad calamity occurred yesterday ...morning, the home of Mr. Joseph Pul...itzer, at 10 and 12 East 55th st., New ...York City, being destroyed by fire. ...From the despatches it is learned that ...the body of Mrs. Jellett was found ...on the third floor after the fire. One ...of the servants, who escaped over the ...roof, said that he saw Mrs. Jellett on ...the roof at the time. He presumed ...that she went back for a bag, which ...was found clutched in her hand when ...her body was found.

...Mrs. Jellett lived for many years ...in Belleville. Before her marriage ...she was Miss Sarah Bull, daugh...ter of the late Mr. Geo. E. Bull, of ...Sidney, where she was born about ...55 years ago. She married Mr. Mor...gan Jellett, barrister, of Belleville, ...who was a brother of the late Judge ...Jellett, of Picton, and a nephew of the ...late Provost Jellett, of Trinity Col...lege, Dublin. In 1884 Mrs. Jellett ...moved to Toronto with her family, ...and in 1892 went to New York to ...take possession as private secretary ...and companion to Mrs. Pulitzer.

...The deceased leaves a family of two ...children—a son and a daughter. The ...son, Mr. Morgan Jellett, is a member ...of the Traders' Bank staff, Toronto, ...well known in athletic circles. ...The daughter, Miss Jellett, is attend...ing school in the city and resides with ...her father at 34 Huntley street. ...The remains were to-day forwarded ...to Belleville, where the interment will ...take place.
